

Personal information pelmanism cards (elementary)

1. Print and cut up the cards, 1 set per group of 3-5 students.
2. Students spread the cards face down on a desk, and sit round the desk.
3. They take turns to turn over 2 cards, reading the sentences, until they find a pair.
4. When they find a pair, if they can complete the second sentence, they score 1 point and keep the cards.
5. After the pelmanism game, each student reads out the problem cards that they won and the first one to remember the advice scores a point.
6. The student with the most points at the end wins!

Note: the writing is in grey so that it doesn't show through the paper when the cards are face down on the desk.
